

Music Festival Is Held On Campus

Friday, April 18, the West Tennessee Music Festival was held here on the UTMB campus. The Festival was under the direction of Harriet Fulton, Head of the Music Dept., and Robert Stewart, professor of piano at UTMB.

Several high schools and private studios were represented in the event. These were: Mrs. Fowler, Union City, one pianist; Mrs. Fossy, Jacob's of Jackson, three pianists and one voice; Mrs. Niell, Troy, one pianist; Mrs. Jackson, Humboldt, one pianist; Hal Bishop of Greenfield, eight pianists, and Mrs. Swain, Martin, three pianists. The high schools represented were: Lexington High, three voice, two small groups, one large group; Alamo, under the direction of Mrs. Wolf, nine pianists; Union City, two small groups and one large group; and Dyer, two pianists.

The event began promptly at 8:30 with registration and continued until 8:30 in the evening. After registration the participants were auditioned until 12. Then they ate lunch and afterward were shown around the campus. Auditions began at 2 p.m. and continued until 5.

The highlight of the event was the evening concert at 7:15. During this time participants, which had been judged outstanding in their field, performed for the audience.

Participants in the event were: the 21 voice Girls' Chorus from Lexington; Gail Taylor, an excellent pianist of Jackson; the Union City Girls' Sextet; Peggy Wood, pianist of Jackson; Dolly Caywood, vocalist of Lexington; Girls' Trio, Lexington; Betty Parks, pianist of Ohio; the 48 voice Girls' Chorus from Union City; Jean Smith, pianist of Greenfield; Girls' Octet from Union City; Nancy Nelson, pianist of Alamo; Girls' Sextet, Lexington; Charlene Archie, pianist of Greenfield; and the Union City a cappella choir.

Special guest artist was Rita Wiley, formerly a student at UTMB, and now a student at Knoxville. Rita sang "Make Believe" from Show Boat and "Oh, What a Beautiful Morning" from Oklahoma.

Highlighting the concert were the two numbers sung by the Mass Girls' Chorus. The chorus was composed of all the vocalists at the concert and was under the direction of Professor Ambrose Holford.

Judges for the event were William Dorn, assistant professor of piano, and Professor Ambrose Holford, director of choral organization. Both of the judges are from the University at Knoxville.

Literary League Met On Campus Saturday

Representatives of five West Tennessee High Schools were guests of UTMB Saturday for the Interscholastic Literary League. The Literary League, an oratory contest for high school students, was under the direction of English Department Head, Harry Harrison Kroll.

The high schools represented were: Martin High with instructor, Mrs. Jack Glass; Huntingdon High, Mrs. Lucas Welch; Dresden High, W. L. Darnall; Ridgely High, Mrs. Frank Taylor; and Grove High, Suzanne Bennett.

Miss Van Denburg In Campbell Clinic

During the Easter holidays, one of the most popular members of the UTMB faculty, Miss Aaltje Van Denburg, entered Campbell's Clinic at Memphis. There Miss Van Denburg received treatment for a condition involving discs in her back.

Miss Van Denburg is Assistant Professor of Related Arts and Crafts here on the campus.

Greater UTMB Athletic Council Is Organized

A step forward in UTMB athletics was taken April 4 with the formation of a Greater UTMB Athletic Council. Decision to form the athletic group came at a meeting of interested civic leaders, businessmen, and UTMB officials.

President of the new organization will be F. G. "Moe" Cavin. Frank Prins, Jr., was elected vice-president, Richard Maloan was elected secretary, and S. W. Latta was elected treasurer.

A committee to draw up a constitution and by-laws was appointed. James Riley will serve as chairman with Phil B. Harris, Wilson Vaughn, Judge George Thomas, and George Rowlett the other members.

The group's primary aim at present will be to encourage the expansion of athletics at UTMB by setting up a scholarship fund. Cost of the program has been estimated at $19,000 yearly.

Mr. Prins, a prominent Weakley County industrialist, was named chairman of the committee which will conduct the actual fund-raising drive. Mr. Prins is at present organizing his committee and expects the actual work of obtaining financial pledges to get underway shortly.

The $19,000 yearly would supplement some $38,000 each year provided by the college. It would make possible the offering of a considerable number of full scholarships in basketball and football.

Members of the coaching staff, school officials, and alumni are united in their opinion that the only way UTMB can become a real small-college power in athletics is for the successful realization of such a program as the one now underway. It is also agreed that a successful athletic program will do more to bring the college national attention than any other single activity could in the immediate future. Such publicity, it is felt, would help the school not only in athletics but in increasing enrollment, etc.

Two One Act Plays Presented Thursday

Two plays, "The Boor" and "The Red Key," were presented to a capacity audience last Thursday night in Room 205 of the Administration Building. These two one act plays were presented by the Vanguard Theatre and were wholly student productions.

Even being directed by the students. Jimmie Dallas directed "The Red Key" and "The Boor" was directed by Mary C. Carrington. Since both plays were so entirely different it would be unfair, as well as difficult, to make a comparison of the two. "The Boor" was delightful and so was Geron Brown in the leading role. He had the ease of a real trooper in this story of a Russian gentleman who surprises himself by falling in love with a pretty widow, Mrs. Popov, played by Peggy Morris. Wayne Shrader was the old servant, Luka, who was shocked to high heaven when he walked in on "the boor" and Mrs. Popov, (who just a few minutes earlier had been violently quarreling over the widow's inability to pay her debts) in an embrace. All ends well and the audience was left in a light, gay mood; but the quality of acting and mood in "The Red Key" which followed soon found everyone sober and engrossed in that story.

"The Red Key" was somewhat of a psychological thriller, involving a mentally unbalanced woman, Hester, played by Wanda Garner; her brother, Nicholas, played by Steve O'Daniel; and his fiancée, Karen, Doris Hettinger. The story reveals a murder committed seven years previously by Nicholas, the victim being Karen's father. But the play ends with love and faith overcoming fear and doubt and we suppose that everyone lives happily ever after.

Both plays were excellently presented and certainly proved to be a credit to the Vanguard Theatre and to UTMB!

With spring finally here, campus scenes like this are becoming "the thing" for UTMB students eager to relax with old and new friends.

Juniors Plan Banquet For Next Saturday

A first in UTMB history will be recorded next Saturday, April 26, at 7:00 p.m., when the first Junior-Senior Banquet will be held at Boyette's on Reelfoot Lake.

The speaker for the banquet has not been definitely selected, but it will be someone who has a direct interest in UTMB and its future.

The banquet is open to all juniors, seniors, and their dates. Tickets for seniors will be paid for by the Junior Class, but not their dates if neither junior or senior. At present plans have been made to pay as much as possible for junior's tickets, while they must pay the remainder and for their dates.

Anyone desiring a ticket should see George Gossett, Sandra Roush, Charles Sellars, or Bobby Kendrick.

If you plan to go to the banquet and need transportation, see Tom Hendrix.

SOPHOMORE FROLIC HELD AT KY. LAKE

Paris Landing was the site for the Sophomore Social held on Saturday afternoon, April 12.

The class sponsors and chaperones were on hand to supervise the function. There were 60 sophomores and their dates present.

The main activity of the afternoon was supper, which consisted of all the hot dogs, potato chips, cookies, marshmallows, and cold drinks that anyone could consume.

Ping pong, bowling, and dancing were enjoyed at the Paris Landing Lodge. Afterwards everyone returned to the "Branch."

Wesley Foundation Members Attend Many Meetings

Nashville was the scene last week of a two-day special Inter-Conference committee on work with college youth. The Wesley Foundation Director and two representative students attended the meeting April 10 and 11 from each college in Tennessee and also from several colleges in southwestern Kentucky.

The group discussed problems of Wesley Foundations, and organizations of such groups. They also made resolutions and suggestions for improvements. Scaritt College was host to the group which provided ideas of the college youth in Tennessee. Attending from UTMB and representing the new Wesley Foundation organization were the Rev. Brady Whitehead, Larry Smith and Eleanor Gresham.

Four others are at present enrolled in the Southeast jurisdictional recreation leadership school which was slated for April 17-24. Melvin Humphreys, Melba White-sides, Ray Bryant, and Mary Elizabeth Grabel are attending this recreation workshop in Leesburg, Florida, where they will receive training in everything from square dancing to drama.

On May 9 through 11 the Tennessee Methodist Student Movement Conference will be held at Bethany Hills near Nashville. This is the only meeting together as a state unit during the year. Here the state officers and council members are elected and an outstanding platform speaker chosen to direct the worship of the week-end retreat.

Sophomores Should Request Certificates

Students who will qualify for graduation from the Junior College division by June 1 are asked to contact the registrar's office at once, according to Mrs. Myrtle Phillips, Registrar. Mrs. Phillips added that certificates of graduation from the Junior College division will be prepared for those qualifying who wish to participate in the graduation exercises.

Mrs. Phillips stated that all qualified students must make written request not later than May 10. Each certificate is individually lettered and dated for the candidate, and no charge is made for the certificate. Request forms are now available in the registrar's office.

Minimum requirements for graduation from the Junior College division are 98 quarter hours (including physical education and military science), an academic average of C, with at least three quarters in residence at UTMB.

HOME EC CLUB HAS POPCORN PARTY FOR VISITING GIRLS

The Home Economics Club entertained visiting high school senior girls from various schools on Saturday afternoon, April 12, with a popcorn party in the Home Economics Building.

In the dining room several scrapbooks of the activities of former Home Ec Clubs were displayed. The visitors were especially interested in the scrapbook which contained the history of the UTMB Home Economics Club from 1928 to 1939.

The congregation of St. John's Episcopal Church, Martin, led by their Rector, the Reverend Sidney Sanders, left, and Paul Wilson, celebrated a "Beating of the Bounds" service Sunday, April 13, on the site of their new church and Canterbury House, on St. Charles Street, adjacent to the UTMB campus. This service, traditional in the Episcopal Church, dedicates the ground on which a church is to be built. Canterbury House will serve as a center of many activities for UTMB's Episcopalian students.

'Born Yesterday' To Be Presented Here This Week

Annual Beauty Revue Set For Gym Tonight

The annual UTMB Beauty Revue will be held tonight in the college gym. Held under the sponsorship of the Ag Club, the girl selected as queen will represent UTMB at the Strawberry Festival May 7-9 in Humboldt.

Girls representing almost every campus organization will participate in the revue. In addition to the queen, judges will select a court comprised of first maid, second maid, and alternate. Danny Kerr, president of the Ag Club, will serve as master of ceremonies. Judges will be provided by the Strawberry Association. Piano music will be played by Robert Stewart.

At a recent Ag Club meeting, procedure for the revue was set up. Girls this year will be judged on floor level instead of on the stage. Entrants will first parade before the judges on the floor, and will then walk up the steps and onto the stage. There they will be seated in a semi-circle. Four Ag Club members have been named to help the girls up the steps and escort them to their seats on the stage. They are Mark Farrar, Gene Wimberley, George Gossett, and Charlie Sellers.

Home Ec Convention Attended By Group Of Girls Of UTMB

The Tennessee Home Economics Association Convention was the destination of seven UTMB girls April 18-20. The convention was held at the Andrew Johnson Hotel in Knoxville.

Friday night, all attended the general meeting and heard Dr. Ruth Stevens speak on "What Americans Should Know to Keep up with Russia and China." It was a very interesting and thought provoking speech. After the meeting, punch and cookies were served and the girls viewed the nice displays that had been set up in the ballroom.

Saturday morning the College Clubs Section of THEA held their business meeting in the H. E. Bldg. on the campus. Joyce Bizzele, who was state vice-president of this group, and the other officers conducted the business. Ann McHugh was elected to serve as secretary-treasurer of the College Club next year. Miss Lawanna Walker was her campaign manager and voting delegate. Coffee was served in the dining room and a tour of the building was next on the agenda.

During the luncheon that followed, it was learned that Joyce Bizzele was selected as "Miss Betty Lamp" for the '58 Convention. The Betty Lamp is the symbol of the Home Ec Clubs. Joyce was selected from the top girls in home ec in all colleges in Tennessee and such an award is considered quite an honor among Home Ec Clubs over the state.

Returning home on Sunday were Ann McHugh, Ann Ussery, Joyce Bizzele, Lawanna Walker, Sarah Montgomery, Jane McMaster and Joyce Vineyard. The girls were chaperoned by Miss Norman, Miss Creekmore and Miss Armstrong.

Carolyn Taylor Plays Lead

Thursday night at 8:00 p.m. the curtain will rise on the first student directed three act play presented to the campus by the Vanguard Theatre. The play is "Born Yesterday" and the director is J. Douglas Chandler.

The story is quite amusing and should be appealing to college students. It involves everything from a mad love scene to a knock-down-drag-out brawl! And surely every student has found himself in one or both of the previous scenes.

Carolyn Taylor from Trenton plays the role of "Billie," the dumb kid who is "Born Yesterday." Bobby Bradshaw is the millionaire junk man, "Harry Brock," who likes "Billie" dumb. The nice newspaper man who puts "Billie" wise and ultimately falls in love with her is Bobby Kelley, known on stage as "Paul Verrall." This play would have to have an alcoholic and sure enough it does... he is "Ed Devery," "Brock's" right hand man. Bill Brinley plays this role.

Other roles are played by Charles Duncan, Geron Brown, Barbara Brooks, Lou Ann Anderson, Wayne Shrader, Kellie Lowe, Jeroi Hawkins, and Wandra Garner.

The stage crew includes Barbara Brooks, stage manager; Bobby Kelley, business manager; Sandra Roush, assistant business manager; Wayne Shrader and Ray Pollard, construction; Kellie Lowe and Peggy Morris, lights; Wanda Garner, make-up; costumes, Paula Prather; props, Eleanor Gresham; James Jenkins, publicity.

"Born Yesterday" will run three nights, April 24, 25, and 26. Curtain time will be 8:00 p.m. and the place will be the recreation room of the Women's Residence Hall. Admission is $.50 and $.75.

DON'T MISS "BORN YESTERDAY"!

All Students Club Officers Are Being Elected Here Today

Votes for the All Students Club officers for next year were cast today. The results will probably be announced tonight. Three candidates vied for the office of president: Mark Farrar, Tom Hendrix, and Kenneth Houston. All three contenders are juniors in agriculture. Mark is from Shelbyville, Tom is from Bethel Springs, and Kenneth's home is Decaturville. They have all served various club offices here on campus.

Two other juniors in agriculture are candidates for vice-president. Melvin Humphreys from Cottage Grove or James Youngerman of Lexington will be the new vice-president.

Barbara Brooks and Mary Elizabeth Grabel are the candidates for secretary. Barbara is an education junior from Memphis and Mary Elizabeth is a sophomore in education from Paris.

T-Club 'Coach Night' Has To Be Postponed

The T-Club met April 14 with President Charlie Youngerman in charge. The meeting was scheduled to be "Coach Night" with the highlights of the coaches' lives told, but the program was postponed due to the fact that all of the coaches could not be present.

A short business meeting was held and several things were brought up. The first was electing a candidate to represent the T-Club in the Strawberry Festival and Eleanor Gresham was chosen. Next were discussed the plans for the annual T-C social which is May 3 at Reelfoot Lake. Several things were decided and then the meeting was adjourned.

Ag Club Has Social

The Agriculture Club held its annual spring quarter social Friday night, April 18. The banquet consisted of a chicken barbeque with all the trimmings and a hayride following. Both were enjoyed by all very much.

There were 84 Ag Club members and dates and faculty members present for the occasion.

Election Day

Today was election day on the UTMB campus. The occasion was the selecting of the All Students' Club officers for next year. And such a day it was. All the campaigning that has been going on for the past week really helped build up a lot of enthusiasm and school spirit.

The Orange ticket's program last Thursday night was just terrific. Their platform supporting no Saturday classes really went over big. Of course the White ticket could not be out-done, so in their presentation of their party platform Friday night, they urged no classes after 3:00 p.m. during spring quarter.

The bright posters, campaign slogans, hand-shaking, and general good will really made the voting a hard task. With all the candidates showing such keen interest and enthusiasm, it was a difficult job to have to decide who to cast that all important vote for. But one thing for sure, no matter who wins, this spirited election has proved that any of the candidates would tackle their newly elected office wholeheartedly.

If you have read this far, you're probably scratching your head and saying, "What in the dickens are they talking about?" And that's a very logical question. The kind of election previously mentioned is not carried on the UTMB campus. In fact election time is about the quietest time of the year. Why? Because if a student goes all out; makes posters, creates slogans, even suggests running on parties or tickets, and shows that he would really like to have the job, it's a cinch that he'll never win! Why, I don't know, but the fault lies with you and me, the students of UTMB... we have let feelings like this be established on the campus and we're the only ones who can change them.

Why don't we?????

Freed-Hardeman Squelched By Vols

By MAURICE FIELD

On Saturday, April 12, the Vols jumped into Freed-Hardeman with both feet and the result was a 22 to 6 score. Marshall Duffy started for the Vols, giving up five hits and three walks while striking out none. He left the game for a pinch runner in the 7th as the Vols went ahead 14-0. Petty pitched the seventh and eighth, allowing one run, one hit and picking up three strikeouts. Shanklin took the ninth and gave up five runs on six hits. Hoke, Cook, and Youman took the pasting of the Vols. Together they gave up 24 hits, 22 runs, and five bases on balls as they struck out ten.

Tony Austin led the Vols with a great game as he collected five hits in six times up. Among his hits were a double and a triple. All together he drove in seven runs. McKenny led the opposition with three out of four, including a double and a triple. He drove in four runs. Other extra base hits were doubles by Witt, Field,

Tull, and Adcock and triples by Joyner, Witt, and Thomas.

The big innings for the Vols were the fourth, sixth, seventh, and eighth, when they scored 4, 5, 5, and 8 runs respectively. The opposition took advantage of the ninth for five runs.

Freed-Hardeman had played one game previously, losing by a score of 2 to 1. This was the Vols' second win in as many starts.

Letters To The Editors...

Would A Social Fraternity Help Martin?

It has been the belief of many that a social fraternity would ruin this institution. These believers seem to think the students would be separated and only associate with ones in their group. This lack of logic has installed within me a challenge to prove the benefits that can be received on the campus by a social fraternity.

I would like to present a brief history of fraternities. The college fraternity system is as old as the republic it services. It was in 1776 that the first Greek letter society came into existence. It was started at William and Mary College. The student center of this college was the Apollo room, in Williamsburg, Virginia. On the night of December 5, 1776, five close companions stayed after the others had left, and when they arose to go, Phi Beta Kappa had been born.

Today there are many different Greek letter fraternities. It is my belief that an organization could not last this long, unless it was a worthy organization.

To begin with, UTMB has earned the title of a "suit case" college. Well, to tell the truth, it is. As sure as Friday rolls around, cars are continually pulling out of the parking lot, headed homeward. Now comes the question, "Can a fraternity make a seven day week instead of a five day week?" First a fraternity would tend to keep boys in a closer fellowship, and when you have close friends who remain in college, you would have a tendency to stay also. To give an example of this, when a college sport is being held on or near the campus, fraternity brothers go to these sports and sit as a group. You may ask the question, "How do you know this will work?" My answer to this would be that it has worked elsewhere, why wouldn't it work here?

Another thing UTMB is lacking is "school spirit." I have been to almost all the ball games in which UTMB has participated this year. I noticed, as I did last year, that the school spirit at these games was not comparable to the students attending. Again a question develops in the minds of students on how could a fraternity help this situation. Well, to begin with, a fraternity would almost entirely turn out to these participations. If more than one fraternity comes to UTMB, there would be a stronger competitive spirit at these games.

Another thing in which a fraternity could help UTMB, is in the social standing. One thing a fraternity stresses is the social life of its members. It tries to teach each of the members how to conduct himself socially, how to be a credit to himself, as well as to his family. This point is stressed highly in most fraternities. To the above effect the President of Washington University is quoted as saying, "We recognize fraternity men as the leaders in college life, and as such, we look to them to set the example."

The discussion on fraternities at UTMB could go on, and on, but as a closure I would like to present a quotation from the late President Woodrow Wilson. "The college is a process of slow evolution from the school boy, and the school boy's mental attitude, into the man and his entirely altered view of life. It can be accomplished only in the college environment. The environment is of the essence of the whole effect."

While knitting, some women can make talk out of nothing, proof of which is that later they can't repeat one word of what was said during a long afternoon.

Dear Editor:

I am a member of one of the curriculum clubs on campus. For the past few weeks our club has been confronted with an annoying problem and I would like to bring it to the attention of the student body and faculty.

Our club procured a guest speaker from another curriculum for a recent meeting. The speaker was unable to attend the meeting as planned, but assured us that he would be most willing to speak at a future date.

Since that time our engaged speaker has been relieved of his duties at UTMB after June 1. The faculty advisors for our club told us that in view of the previous statement, we should forget about having the speaker, because his "superior," who discharged him, might think it strange if one of his "recently relieved" staff members were asked to speak at another curriculum's club meeting. And we were warned that we must watch our relationship with other curriculums.

My question is... "Are our advisors interested in the students of the club, or are they only concerned with pleasing all of the other departments on campus?"

NAME WITHHELD

(Ed. note: We have heard about this mix-up and definitely feel that this action on the part of the club advisors did much more harm to the club and department than having the "relieved" speaker fulfill his commitment ever could have.)

Courtesy On The Campus

By HAROLD JAMES

Courtesy is defined as elegant politeness or an expression of respect. What does this include? It might be respect for others, friendliness, good manners (boys holding doors for girls, removing hats, and using good table manners), or using tactful speech. All of these things would contribute to the courtesy traits.

Just what part does courtesy play on a campus?

One of the most essential items on a college campus is courtesy or politeness. It tends to create a greater respect and admiration for the institution. Courtesy is as important as anything taught in school. An old saying goes, "Practice makes perfect." In what better place could courtesy be practiced than on the campus?

Courtesy lends a feeling of cheerfulness to the surroundings. When practiced continually, it gives a deep feeling of satisfaction to the person who practices it.

One might begin practicing courtesy on the UTMB campus by learning to co-operate with his or her fellow classmates. Remember that courtesy includes respect for and co-operation with the members of the faculty.

Classroom work provides a place for improvement of your courtesy rating. Take into consideration that the instructor and the other students have ideas and opinions that just might be as good as your own. Give attention to those ideas and opinions. Being quiet, except when called upon, also shows respect for the instructor of the class.

In the library, remember that others have come there for the purpose of studying. You can show how courteous you are by being quiet in respect to this fact.

Sports provide decent, clean fun when played fairly. Participation in an activity of this kind is a good test of your character and of your courtesy.

On the campus, all persons should be equally respected. Show your respect in the small things you do as well as the bigger ones.

Young people, just as the older ones, can show their respect to others by treating them just as they wish to be treated. You may recognize this principle as the Golden Rule. In that one verse of scripture lies the key to perfect courtesy.

A friendly "hello," a pleasing smile, a "thank you," an "excuse me, please," an "after you," or a pleasant tone of voice will do much to make you a very courteous person.

All of these acts of politeness would make anyone a more enjoyable person to know, and they can be practiced here on our campus.

The University of Tennessee Martin Branch has a nice campus; if everyone who attends UTMB would co-operate in practicing courtesy, it would possess added beauty.

Do your part to make our campus the most courteous college campus anywhere.

POET'S CORNER

By BARBARA BROOKS

Wha' happened to the poetry?

It looks like Spring has finally decided to pay us a visit... spring, the time when a "young man's fancy" turns to what the girls have been thinking about all year! (So I've been told).

Last week our campus was privileged to hear Mr. David Bar Ilan, concert pianist. The program was very entertaining, but according to old UTMB tradition, the number present was scant. A special thanks to Miss Fulton and Mr. Stewart for urging their music appreciation classes to go; had it not been for them Mr. Bar Ilan probably would have found himself playing to four walls!

Thursday night the Vanguard Theatre's two student-directed one act plays, "The Red Key" and "The Boor" were presented to the campus, and I might add, presented magnificently! Something else quite encouraging was the fact that the room in which they were presented was almost packed to the brim! A special bow to Jimmy Dallas and Mary Carrington, directors. The cast introduced some faces new to Vanguard, and showed promise of valuable talent for the future.

I personally have griped so much about poor student attendance at events such as plays, concerts, and recitals, that a committee of students wrote me urging that I take a poll to see just how many faculty members attend these functions. Plans are underway now for just that and the results will be published in the next issue of the Vquette. And I have a feeling they may be shocking!

A group from Vanguard Theatre is planning a jaunt down to Baylor University, May 9-11, for a drama festival featuring world famous mime, Etienne DeCroux. During the four day festival, the group will see the experimental play, "Korea," the Baylor Theatre's film of "Hamlet," as well as watching Mr. DeCroux at work along with the Baylor group. It promises to be a wonderful experience.

The newest formed organization on the campus, Alpha Omega Phi, attended the ball game last Thursday as a group and showed some of that fine school spirit which we have been lacking lately. It's funny, but that many boys, having that much spirit and energy, created an atmosphere at that game which was hard to beat. And I for one would like to say, "Thanks."

Gosh, I almost forgot about those mid-terms tomorrow... gotta go! Good luck!

MISS ARMSTRONG AND FLOWERS HAVE BUSY MEMPHIS TRIP

Miss Armstrong and Miss Flowers met with the school lunch staff from the State Department of Education. The purpose was to plan for the summer school workshops for our school lunch management.

It was sponsored by Extension Department of the University of Tennessee. Workshops are held each summer on the campus at Knoxville and at Martin.

Thursday afternoon Miss Armstrong and Miss Flowers visited the Home Economics Department in Whitehaven. There they talked with the junior and senior classes regarding college education.

While in Memphis they visited Miss Van Denburg.

Miss Flowers remained for the Tennessee Education Association Convention and attended the Home Education Luncheon Friday morning at the Hotel Peabody.

UTMB Secretaries Meet And Discuss Programs

The Secretaries Club met Monday night, April 14, at 7 o'clock in the Nutrition Laboratory of the Student Activities Building with the president, Virginia White, presiding. Roll call was taken and the minutes of the meeting on March 3 were read and approved.

Discussion was held concerning future programs for the club. The list of hostesses assigned for the coming months was read. It was decided that the club reporter, Sue Roberts, would send a report of all meetings to both the Vquette and the Weakley County Press.

The hostesses for April, Blanche Freeman, Dorothy Reams and Sue Roberts, served ice cream and home-made cup cakes to the members present: Sarah Margaret Bayars, Katherine Howell, Mary Anne Jeans, Virginia White, Mary Evelyn Yates, Blanche Freeman, Dorothy Reams, and Sue Roberts.

The meeting was adjourned at 8 o'clock. The next meeting will be held May 12. All members are urged to be present as Miss Mary Armstrong has been invited to show slides of her experiences in India.

AG CLUB CHOOSES REPRESENTATIVE IN BEAUTY REVUE

The Ag Club held its regular meeting April 7 in room 200 of the ABL Building. President Kerr called the meeting to order, and the minutes were read by secretary Houston and approved by the club.

Carol Caldwell was elected to represent the club in the annual beauty revue.

The club discussed the matter of having either an open or a closed Ag Club social and voted to have a closed social as usual. The social will consist of a chicken barbecue and a hay-ride. Numerous committees were appointed to arrange for the social and the float for the strawberry festival.

Mark Farrar informed the club that the club pins will soon be ordered.

Alton Cary was honored with being elected "Aggie of the Month."

The meeting was adjourned and refreshments were served.

Fashions and Fads

By ELEANOR GRESHAM

Yes! Spring has really sprung, with April showers and all! It's evident in so many ways, as well as in the many fashions and fads worn by UTMB's co-eds and eds.

Just as the first rounds of baseball and cork ball are assurances that that glorious time of the year has arrived, so short-sleeved shirts and blouses are indicative of the new season. And Buck Dyer is typical of many men on campus in his turquoise blue and white striped shirt with the medium-sized stripes running horizontally. Red Vestal takes the other point of view and selects red and white vertical stripes. Designs in plaids, prints, checks, stripes, and even solids are making "hits" on the campus, and styles include convertible collars, Italian or Capri collars, and the new mandarin collar.

A look around campus and one will also note the budding greenery; it seems as if each day brings a new burst of leaves. It also seems that each day brings a new array of dresses in cotton and dacron, the two most popular spring fabrics. Carolyn Washam has blossomed out in a very popular style—the sailor dress; her version is in powder blue featuring a slim slim and set in pockets. The dress with an emphatic white collar and a small striped in-set at the neckline is cut along princess lines. But equally as popular are the full skirts, this year worn over a minimum of petticoats. Charlotte Taylor's tan (ac-sleeves, convertible collar, and a self-belt accenting her tiny waist. An unusual and intriguing feature of Charlotte's dress is the design embroidered with open-cut work on the back. It's fascinating!

It's been mentioned that the budding trees are signs of spring, but they also sport new benches, and this year they're sporting a new coat of paint. Yes, in green! Likewise, no mention of spring dresses would be complete without the chemise, or "sack"—a rage at UTMB in one- and two-piece versions. Barbara Boswell selected mint green for her slim affair, which has the "belted" look, for at the hipline is a medium belt of matching cotton fabric. The lowered neckline is finished with a bias facing, and the sleeves are short. However, Donna Johnston chose a two piece outfit in a dark pink, almost raspberry. Topping the slim skirt with inverted box pleat and three matching buttons is a chemise over blouse with a dart design in center front, short sleeves with gussets, and a lowered neckline finished with a facing accented by three matching buttons to coincide with those on the skirt. Quite a favorite color in the chemise realm is black; Johnnie Alexander's chemise is belted in the back and is in black linen, while Jane McMaster's dress is entire ystraight and is accented by a black and white polka dotted tie. Just as spring is here to stay, so it looks like the chemise is here to stay, for a little while, at least.

Full tennis courts are another evidence of spring, for it seems the roof of the women's dorm isn't the only place the sun shines. One has to really be on the ball to beat the members of the tennis teams out there though. Their uniforms are typical of attire of the students, for the women wear white shorts with an orange stripe up the sides and the white terry cloth "T" shirts with the Tennessee emblem and elasticized short sleeves and high necklines, which may, by the way, be purchased at the bookstore. The men wear white shorts and the terry cloth shirts with the Tennessee emblem and accented by orange elasticized bands around the short sleeves and the "V" neck.

But one doesn't have to play tennis to don sports clothes, for another added attraction of spring at UTMB is the spring outings to Reelfoot, Paris Landing, Natchez Trace, etc., planned by the different campus organizations. This year Bermuda shorts are rating first for the women, as well as men. Plaids are quite popular in cotton, and Ruth Caldwell, Mary Ann Hagewood and Jane Greeson are representative of co-eds owning such; however, Glenda Pritchett's selection of black is typical of many who prefer solid colors which can be combined with blouses in prints, solids, checks, etc., making them so versatile.

Spring also means surveying for the engineers, and these guys with poles, tapes, "slip sticks," and such equipment have really made a place for themselves. But Cecil Hughey is out to revolutionize the whole deal; he was seen the other day in Bermuda shorts, getting the job done! How 'bout that? The men are definitely wearing Bermuda shorts more than ever this spring, and a group of guys were seen celebrating the finals of spring football practice, another annual spring affair, outfitted in Bermuda shorts, no less. Included were Bobby Fowler, Louis Burgess, and Fred Clark; their selections included plaids, stripes, and solids.

This is, indeed, one of the happiest and most eventful times of the year, and a favorite of many. Signs of spring are everywhere, and the best one is spring fever; here's hoping with your case of spring fever you'll be wearing the latest Fashions and Fads!

Incidentally, Freed-Hardeman took both of last year's bouts with the Vols. This one was a 7 to 2 decision with only Hummel and Johnson winning in the singles and none of the Vol pairs winning in doubles. Both of the UTMB wins were the full three sets.

Keith Johnson, Bobby Kilburn, and Murrell Webb each won singles matches, and Johnson and Kilburn won in the doubles. The longest and most gruelling set was during Keith Johnson's match with the final score of the set being 9-11 in his opponent's favor.

In singles matches:

Fred Hummel vs. Johnny Rose, (UU) 6-4, 6-4

Jim Stanford vs. Clyde Briggs, (UU) 6-2, 6-3

By KAY ADKINS

Time was, along about last quarter, when everyone thought the sun would never shine again. But these beautiful days when the sun is shining in all its splendid glory that everyone really understands the meaning of spring; that it's the awakening of life. New life surges into being, etc., etc., but it sure makes studying hard, doesn't it?

Talking about spring, the benches that have recently been set out on the campus are rapidly being occupied. Is it to look at the squirrels which abound on our beautiful campus? Is it for the bird watchers' society? Is it for studying? Two bits says it's for none of these reasons...

If you happen to notice a few of the students who look as if they're water logged, there's only one explanation—Instructor's Swimming. But keep up the hard work, future instructors! It'll soon be over—and you've heard it said that once you have your instructor's you don't have to get wet anymore...

All the beauties are priming for the big review. It's a mad scramble to get all the dresses, hoops, petticoats, faces and hair exactly right for the event. However, to look at the beauties on stage, one would never know they had to go to so much trouble to look beautiful. And that, in itself, is somewhat like spring. Suddenly everything blossoms out into beautiful existence; but unlike spring the beauties don't fade away. If you've ever really thought about it, the campus has many, many beautiful faces the year 'round. Right?

Man, is the campus ever buzzin' with campaigning and politics! Cries of, "Vote for .....!" ring through the halls of the girls' dorm, as the time draws near. No one is left unharmed, and it will be a big decision to decide who is the best "man" for the job from all the well-qualified candidates.

What's the matter with you? Were you "Born Yesterday"? If note, be sure to see the Vanguard production of "Born Yesterday" which is to be presented Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights? It's bound to be terrific! It's a Vanguard production, isn't it? Need I say more?

Seems like there's something doing every minute. The only trouble—there's just not enough time in which to do it. How can anyone find time to just relax and enjoy living? If you can, more power to you! What's the difference if you don't get all your lessons, etc. You're enjoying not getting them, aren't you?

Now is the time not to miss out on the socials. What could be better than a day (or half a day) at the lake? Ain't it fun?

23, Blue will play White, and on Thursday, April 24, Red with encounter Brown. Softball is the team sport for the quarter. It's a lot of fun, so help your team by joining in the fun.

The swim meet is coming up in the near future. Watch for the sign up sheet on the women's bulletin board.

Student Wives' Club Has Regular Meeting

The Student Wives Club held their regular meeting April 15 at the student lounge.

A short business meeting was held in which a bake sale was scheduled for Saturday, May 3.

Thereafter an interesting demonstration was given by Glenda Abbott on crayon etching.

Refreshments were served by Jane Parrish. Everyone enjoyed the evening.

Vols Drop Two Games To Chiefs At Paducah

The Vols dropped two games April 18 to Paducah at Paducah. The first game was marked by at least two very questionable calls by the base umpires which led to four runs and by faulty fielding by the Vol battery of Foulks and Davis. Net result was a 10-4 loss in a game which could easily have been won. The second game, which the Vols did not quite expect to play, saw a fine pitching effort by Joyner go to waste as a result of an error which let in three unearned runs.

In the first game, UT got 2 in the opening inning on two walks and a two-out single by Witt. With big Marshall Duffy on the mound, the Vols thought this would come close to being enough. However, with two on and none out a sore arm forced Duffy to the sidelines, and from there everything went wrong. Petty, with no warmup period, took over and almost worked out of it as he had 2 out and 1 run in when an obviously wrong call on a runner led to 2 runs and a 3-2 Paducah lead. Three unearned runs off Petty and Foulks in the 2nd on a wild throw by Davis, which kept the inning alive, put the game beyond reach. Foulks' own error in the 4th let in the 7th run and another error by Davis let in the 8th in the 5th. The final 2 were scored off Overton in the 6th.

The Vols added their final two runs in the 4th on a walk to Wilson, a fielder's choice, a run-batted-in single by Penn, an error and an rbi single by Joyner. Other than the first and fourth innings the Vols had only two base runners, Petty, who walked in the second, and Penn, who singled in the seventh.

Paducah won the second game in the third inning. With runners on 1st and 2nd and 1 out, Smith hit a ball sharply to Witt, who let the ball go through him for an error, 1 run scoring. The next batter was out which would have retired the side without a run had the error on the previous man not been made.

Hawkins, who gave Joyner his only trouble, got his 2nd of 3 hits to score the other 2 runs. The final Paducah run, and their only earned run, came in the bottom of the 6th on a triple and a single.

The Vols scored their only run in the 5th. The first two men were easy outs but Tull then walked. Thomas hit a long double to left center with Tull scoring easily. Tyson then bounced out to short to end the only real UT threat. The only other Vol hits were singles by Kendrick in the 2nd, by Witt in the 4th, and by Joyner in the 6th.

Looking at Sports

The Vol baseballers have taken their lumps the past three games after easily winning the first two. The loss to Union was not too bad as Forsythe is rated as good a college pitcher as there is in this area. The two defeats Friday at Paducah were a bitter pill, though not all a result of poor play by the Vols.

The Vols (as did the cage team earlier this year) ran up against some peculiar officiating, to say the least. Two very bad calls had much to do with the outcome of the first game.

With the Vols ahead 2-1 in the bottom of the first and 2 out, a Paducah runner was trapped between 3rd and home. As he ran back toward third he went far enough outside the base line that he actually touched the line of the coach's box, yet the umpire called him safe. In between innings the ump looked up the rule and agreed the man was out but by this time it was too late and 2 runs had counted which should not have. In a later inning a Paducah runner started back toward 1st after a fly ball and as the throw came in wide reversed and headed for 2nd and finally wound up on 3rd, and then admitted he still hadn't touched 1st. But the throw to 1st and base tag got nowhere with the ump, and this added up to another two runs as things worked out.

After this game, the Paducah coach stated that the contract called for a double-header and that it was either play or forfeit the second game, so a team very unhappy with the situation went through the motions and dropped the second game 4-1.

The situation UT faced is best shown by two comments. Prior to the game, the Paducah coach stated that he hoped UT would be satisfied with the umpires who are "just a couple of our boys," and by a later comment by the 3rd base umpire who started it all that "well, we don't get paid anything for umpiring."

The Vols also did much to beat themselves. After Duffy walked the first man and gave up a hit to the next, he stated that he had a sore arm and had to leave the game. Petty then had to take over cold and even so would have gotten out but for the above-mentioned call. After one very weak throw by Johnson at 2nd in the second inning he discovered that his arm was too sore also.

Foulks, normally a good fielder, caused himself more trouble than did the Paducah batters as he muffed at least three rollers back to the mound. His battery mate, Davis, not to be outdone, made three wild throws. On one, just following a strike out and with a baserunner on first, a throw went so far into right field that the runner came all the way around.

There will always be squawks about the officials, of course, in any contest—football, basketball, or baseball. There have been about those at the local field, and Paducah might have won anyway though no member of the Vol team will agree. But it does seem that a game between colleges should at least have certified officials. Those calling the home games may not be of major or minor pro league caliber, but they are certified, and it would seem the same should be true at Paducah and elsewhere also. If Volete readers visualize the officiating "Wild Bill" Elliott would give an out of town team in Martin, they can about picture what kind of breaks UT got at Paducah.

Sore Arms Plague Vols

Sore arms have hit two of the Vols' top players. Involved are Marshall Duffy, pitcher, and Ralph Johnson, second baseman. Both have been mainstays of the team and any prolonged absence would be bound to hurt the team's chances.

Of the two, the sore arm of Duffy is the more serious. The big righthander is a fine pitcher and competitor. In his previous start he had pitched six scoreless innings and was the winning pitcher in the 22-6 rout of Freed-Hardeman. He has been plagued with trouble with his knees that makes it hard for him to run, and there is some fear that this trouble may have hit his arm also.

Johnson's sore arm may have been caused by a five-day layoff the week previous when he had to go to Auburn preparatory to enrolling there next fall. His absence would also be missed although the team has depth at second with both Kendrick and Thomas ready to fill the breach.

Slump Afield Affects Batters

After almost perfect ball in their first two games, fielding lapses have hurt the Vols in the last three. Along with the drop in fielding, has come a drop in the batting attack as well. In their last three games, the Vols have made a total of only 7 runs and 15 hits. In their first two they made 29 runs and 37 hits. Lack of hitting lost their second game at Paducah, with the only run coming on a two-base hit by Thomas after a walk to Tull. The Vols' big guns, Tyson, Witt, Austin, have been handcuffed most of the time. Several others, who were expected to hit, have not yet started, and this has made its mark. About the only solution a coach has to such a situation is to shake up the lineup and with a week before the next game with Bethel, several changes may be made in an effort to get a sustained attack underway.

Union Downs Vols With Five Hitter

By MAURICE FIELD

The Bulldogs of Union University laid it on the Vols with a score of 7 to 2, Wednesday, April 16. It was even-steven until the fourth. Until this time the Vols had collected one lone hit to none for the eventual victors. After the fourth Union scored in all the remaining innings except the seventh and ninth. The Vols' only two scores came in the eighth on a couple of singles and an error.

Jerry Forsythe of Union was the winning pitcher as he walked four, struck out nine and gave up two runs on five hits. Foulks started for the Vols and went five innings before being relieved by Johnson, who was relieved by Petty in the ninth. All combined they walked two, struck out five, and gave up twelve hits and seven runs.

Lee of Union stole the show at the plate as his productive bat brought forth four hits in five times at the dish. One of his hits was a triple. Kemp of Union had two hits in three times up and two rbi's.

Billy Joyner of the Vols collected two hits in three times at bat to lead the losers. Jimmy Tyson drove in two runs.

Three bases were stolen during the game. The Vols stole two with the thieves being Wilson and Joyner. Lee stole one for the Bulldogs.

Vols Nip Belmont In Opener, 7-2

By MAURICE FIELD

On Monday, April 8, the Vols nipped Belmont 7-2 in the bud of their perfect game laurels. Charles Foulks went the route for the locals as he walked five, struck out ten, and gave up two runs on seven hits. Bradley started for Belmont, giving up two runs, two bases on balls, and five hits while striking out three. He was relieved in the fourth by Vradenburg. The latter struck out six, walked one, and gave up five runs on eight hits, and was the losing pitcher.

The score was locked at two-all until the Vols broke loose in the fifth for three runs. They were accounted for by a walk, a single, a double and a fielder's choice. Two more were added in the eighth on two singles, a walk, and a double.

Jimmy Tyson led the victors with three hits in five times at the dish. The extra base hits were doubles and they were collected by Joyner, Johnson, and Foulks of the Vols and Bailey of Belmont. Several players of both teams got two hits.

Cunningham of Belmont stole the only bases and they amounted to two.

This was the first game of the twelve-game schedule of the Vols. Belmont came into the game with a one and zero record on the basis of a five-inning perfect game pitched by Vradenburg and Hogan pitched against Martin College.

Spring Practice Is Pleasing For Football Coach

Spring football practice officially ended Friday, April 18. Despite handicaps, suffered because of weather conditions, Coaches Robert Carroll and Guy Penny feel that adequate progress has been made. They were particularly pleased with the showing made by several boys who did not play much ball last year.

But the coaches feel that there are still a few kinks to be ironed out. "We were particularly pleased with the hustle and desire of the boys out but we still have a long way before we are ready to meet the schedule we have next fall," said Coach Carroll.

The team is expected to be strengthened considerably by the addition of some outstanding freshmen and transfers as the Vols prepare for one of the rougher schedules to be faced in a number of years.

The coaches stated that although no official score was kept of the final scrimmage, the two teams were very evenly matched. Coach Carroll added that a number of boys looked good during the scrimmage although no one standout could be named.

Some 32 prospective squad members were out for practice. The number included some 15 lettermen, divided between 4 seniors, 2 juniors, and 9 sophomores. A large number of high school prospects showed up for tryouts, the total number being estimated at over 80. Alabama had the largest out-of-state contingent with 15. Other states, in addition to Tennessee, represented were Kentucky, Georgia, Florida, Mississippi, Illinois, Arkansas, and New Jersey. The coaches even received an inquiry from two high school boys in Alaska.

Of the out-of-state prospects, the following numbers are likely to be with the squad next fall: Kentucky 1, Alabama 5, Georgia 3, Florida 1, Mississippi 2, Illinois 1, and Arkansas 1.
